

Confidentiality Statements

For reports/information released to other professionals:

This information has been provided to you from records, whose confidentiality is protected by state and federal laws, which prohibit you from making any further disclosure of it without the specific written consent of the person to whom it pertains, or as otherwise permitted, by regulations.

For reports/information released to non mental health professionals:

This is strictly CONFIDENTIAL material and is for the information only of the person to whom it is addressed. No responsibility can be accepted if it is made available to any other person, including the patient. Any duplication, transmittal, redisclosure, or retransfer of these records is expressly prohibited.

Permission to send these records to you has been given, in writing, by the patient they are about. You must not share these records with any person, agency, or program, unless you first obtain written permission to do so from the patient.

Warning: You must protect this document as confidential medical record information. Please handle, store, and dispose of properly.

This report may contain sensitive patient information and so should be released only to appropriate professionals.

For E-mail or Faxes

This information is confidential and legally privileged. If you are not the person to whom it is addressed, do not read, copy, or let anyone else besides the addressee see it. Please respect the confidentiality of this personal information and respect the federal and state laws that protect its confidentiality. If this has been transmitted to you by mistake, I would ask that you extend the courtesy of calling us back at the telephone number listed above and telling us what went wrong.
